THE REPORTS DAILY ON SCOREBOARD

Progress Of Hospital Building Fund Campaign Shown By Workers Reports Will Be Exhibited On Billboard At Depot

START CAMPAIGN MONDAY

Chairman Kerfoot W. Daly Issues Call to All Workers to Let Nothing Prevent Attendance At Their Important Dinner Meeting At Six Monday

A huge score board 10 feet high and 30 feet long has been erected on the grass plot in front of the depot, as a means of publishing daily a graphic form of the reports of the workers who start Monday to raise $150,000 for a new hospital.

On this sign board will be the names of the division commanders and the captains, and what their teams secures each day in the way of subscriptions for the building fund, will be displayed on this board. It is planned to have the reports parted on the board shortly following the meetings of the workers at which their reports will be made.

General Chairman Kerfoot W. Daly of the campaign announced that the executive committee would have another meeting Monday noon at which time it is expected to complete its work for the intensive sales campaign by the 350 workers which starts Monday evening at 6 with the meeting of the entire hospital campaign organization at the Elks club.

A dinner will be served promptly at 6 to all workers. "It is important" declared Chairman Daly, "That every worker let nothing prevent his or her attendance at this meeting Monday evening" Instructions germane to the entire campaign will be presented to the workers in a way that time will not permit that they be explained at any other time during the campaign Those workers who miss the first meeting will be handicapped.

Richard A. Roberts, formerly president of the hospital board of directors and for many years a director of the hospital, being now a member of the board, has been selected as chairman of the advisory committee by Chairman Daly. Chairman Roberts is now working on the advisory committee which is to consist of prominent citizens who are to serve in advisory capacity in the campaign.

The campaign which starts Monday evening with a dinner at 6 at the Elks Club for all workers is to raise $150,000, and if possible more, for a fireproof hospital building to replace the old frame residence that has been used as a hospital for over a generation.

The present hospital building is inadequate, too small, and a serious fire hazard because it is a frame building In addition, there are no facilities to accommodate the medical profession in taking proper care of patients Of all the hospitals in western Pennsylvania, not one is so poor as the hospital in Charleroi.

In Culling Hens Many Found To Be Wanting

That 60 per cent of the hens found in flocks are non-producers, or boarders, was revealed at the series of poultry culling exhibitions held during [illegible] under the auspices of the Fayette County Farm bureau. Te exhibitions were held under the direction of J. C. Taylor, State College poultry expert.

The culling disclosed that none of the hens ever laid more than 75 eggs and according to statistics, a hen is considered a boarder unless she lays more than that number of eggs.

Several hens were discovered that were laying between 160 and 170 eggs and were making money for their owners, as well as paying for themselves, not only in the way of food, but in care as well.

A large number of poultry raisers and farmers attended the cullings, and they evidenced much interest in the exhibitions. This is the last exhibition that will be held this year.

H Benson gave a lecture on "Broadcasting Youths' Achievements," and in the evening the lecture, "Keeping America Strong," by Samuel W. Graffin, was one of the outstanding lecture numbers of the altogether attractive and meritorious program.

Some high spots in Mr. Graffin's lecture:

"If we are to keep America strong we must recover our moral courage During three hundred years of our history we have gained much in morals and lost much in morals. America must recover her moral courage.

"If America is to keep strong she must keep five doors open. First, She must keep open the door of the small store and savings bank. We must learn how to save the pennies. Second, We must keep open the door of the public school. We must raise an intelligent citizenship. Third, We must keep the HOME door open that we may have gold for the mints of God. Fourth, we must keep the shop door open if we are to maintain our industrial supremacy Fifth and last, we must keep the church door open that 'he message from the man of God, 'Thus saith the Lord,' may be heard in the land.'"

America's Flyers Take Off For Iceland At 9:30 This Morning

Aboard U. S Cruiser, Richmond, off Kirkwall, Orkney Islands, August 2—America's around-the-world flyers took off for Iceland at 9.30 a. m. today The weather was fair and there seemed every indication the long flight across the North Atlantic to Hornafjord will be successful.

Fog which has held the world airmen prisoners in Houton Bay for two days after their successful flight from Brough, England, lifted during the night, and the three big planes, riding gracefully at their buoy anchors were made ready at daybreak

There was a great loading of motors and testing, a final inspection and then an anxious wait for radio messages from the torpedo boat destroyers Reid and Billingsley for reports on the weather along the course.

Finally the radioman on the Richmond called out and a group of officers gathered around as he handed over the message, "Favorable."

"Fifteen miles visibility," the Reid shot through a minute later and then the same word came from the Billingsley.

It was then 6 a. m., and the airmen decided to take off at 8 o'clock. Final preparations were not completed until after 9, however, and it was 9 29 when the signal to take off was given.

Lieut Lowell Smith in the flagship of the air squadron took the lead, skimming across the bay followed by his two companions, Lieuts. Wade and Nelson.

The three planes took the air practically simultaneously and then soared away to open sea

Bluejackets on the Richmond sent up a great cheer and the Stars and Stripes fluttered bravely in the morning breeze as the big machines winged into the distance toward Iceland on the first lap of their final perilous flight to the homeland.

BAYNE PLANS NEW BUILDING

D. S. Bayne, Donora businessman, has instructed S H. Pyle of the Donora Lumber company to immediately start plans for a modern brick business block to cover the entire five-lot plot at the corner of Sixth street and McKean avenue, that borough. The plot is 110 feet by 100.

The new building is to be the largest in Donora and will be devoted to the dry goods business of D S. Bayne and Company. A three-story block is proposed with basement and ground floor devoted to the business of the company and the second and third stories to modern apartments.

This is according to the report from the State Welfare Department at Harrisburg, whose business it is to check up on hospitals throughout the state, especially those receiving state aid.

It is pointed out that Charleroi is seriously handicapped by not having a good hospital of fireproof construction with modern equipment and in every way able to take care of emergencies in sickness and accidents as they happen in this community The necessity for taking seriously ill patients to Pittsburgh and other towns where suitable hospital facilities can be secured, have not only increased the hazard of saving lives, but it is the testimony of many who speak from experience that many lives have been lost that could have been saved if a modern hospital had been in existence here to take proper care of them.

DONAHOE ROBBERY REMAINS UNSOLVED

The mystery connected with robbery of the Donahoe grocery remains unsolved. We believe that the famous Sherlock Holmes is in retirement; but we have a mystery here that would call forth his deductive powers. The robbery occurred sometime between closing of the store one week ago Saturday night, and the opening of the establishment on Monday morning of this week. The sum taken as reported to the police was $324 02.

The money was taken from the safe, after which it was relocked. The combination was known but to three employes of the store.

TRAIN CHANGES DO NOT SUIT

The residents of California are very indignant over the change in train schedule made July 13, and are outspoken in saying it is the worst arrangement for years. They think because they have a large patronage at the Normal school trains should be run to at least suit some scholars. One man volunteered this fact to the Pennsy:

"When making your schedule make the trains to suit California and let the other towns get along with it the best they may"

The town gets a down train as early as 3.22, then one at 5:39 and none till 9 56 a. m. This of course does not in any way suit the traveling scholars. Going up the morning trains are 6 30, 8.14 and 9:54. Not so bad this way. The Sentined claims that California should be treated better because more tickets are sold there than at any station in the valley.

FOUR SLIGHTLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Four people were slightly injured, two men and two boys, and the Buick car in wich they were riding was overturned and badly damaged, in an automobile accident which occurred yesterday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock on the Monessen-Webster road, at the point where the Turkey Hollow road joins the main thoroughfare, a short distance from Monessen.

Arthur Winstone and son George, 11, of 633 Knox avenue, Monessen, were returning from Braddock, accompanied by Winstone's brother-in-law, John Lewis, and son Jack, aged 14, of Braddock The latter two were planning to spend the week-end visiting in Monessen. As they were driving along the well-known pike, a Hupmobile, occupants unknown, turning out suddenly at a rapid rate of speed from the Turkey Hollow road, [illegible] it and pinning the occupants beneath it. They were rescued from their positions a short time after the accident by autoists who had witnessed the crash. The offending driver of the car continued on his way, not stopping to learn what damage had been done, but the license number was secured. The injured were brought to the office of Dr. D. E. Sloan of Charleroi, where it was learned that their injuries were confined to bodily bruises and severe shaking up.

MYSTERY OF A FIRE BEING INSPECTED

Government inspectors were at Gallatin Thursday inspecting a fire that burned the postoffice building last Friday night, destroying many office records. The postmaster, George H. Crompton, who also used the second story of the building for his office as justice of the peace and who is the owner of the building, is assisting the inspectors in their inquiry.

Mr. Crompton was appointed postmaster July 3. According to the postoffice inspectors the postal funds, which were in a safe, were saved and the only loss suffered by the department was a number of old records and some mail. The fire occurred near midnight Friday, July 25. Authorities recalled a series of fires which occurred in the Gallatin and Manown sections two years ago from incendiary origin when three barns and four residences were set afire. After a long investigation by the state and county authorities, Adam Osa, a demented Austrian was apprehended in the act of setting fire to a barn belonging to the Pittsburgh coal company at Gallatin. Osa was removed to the St. Francis hospital, Pittsburgh, for observation and later was committed to a state institution for the insane. Efforts are being made to determine if Osa is still in confinement.

Pirates Drop Game To New York Giants At Gotham Yesterday

Trp as they would the Pirates could do no better than equal their seven consecutive game winning streak yesterday, with seven scalps to their belts without a miss, Johnny Morrison essayed the record breaking task but when the final out was made the chesty Giants, somewhat riled over having been beaten twice in succession, rose up, took great advantage of two Pirate misplays and scampered away with a 3-1 victory in the third game of the series.

While an error by Carey, which paved the way for one of the Giants' runs, put Morrison in the hole early, it was Johnny's own wild pitch which permitted the Giants to take a lead which they kept until the finish. Had it not been for these misplays both clubs might have been fighting yet, although the Pirates were unable to resume the same friendliness with the offerings of Barnes as they had with other Giant moundsmen.

NO NEED TO WATCH MACHINES AT THE BALL PARK

Pittsburgh, August 2.—Police here are seeking to put a stop to bad practices of young boys who damage automobiles when the owners refuse to pay these boys money for "watching" the cars while they park them near the ball park.

Seven such boys were arrested for letting air out of tires, scratching the surface of the body and for causing other little annoyances when the owners refused their demands for money.

"This is only a blackmail scheme on the part of the boys," said Magistrate De Wolf of Morals court, before whom they were arrigned. He dismissed them, however, with the warning that they should remain away from the parked machines as there was no need for them to watch the cars. "The police will do that," Magistrate De Wolf said.

Helen Wills Home; Says She Regrets The Lenglen Fuss

Miss Helen Wills, youthful tennis champion of the Olympics, who arrived in New York yesterday on the Acquitania, said that the one regret of her trip is that she had been unable to arrange a match with Susan Lenglin, French champion.

"Mlle. Lenglen's tennis technique and style were different from those of the American players," said Miss Wills," but I think she is a wonderful tennis player and I hope to be matched against her in the future."

Miss Wills said she found the English courts as satisfactory as those of this country. She will play in the women's national tournament at Gotham, she said, after which she will go to Boston and later to her home in Berkeley, Calif.

Vincent Richards, another member of the American Olympic tennis team, was also on the Acquitania, as was Norman Brooks, Australian veteran who arrived in New York to play in the Davis cup matches.

Tell the Boss About It

Mark Twain said about the weather: "Everybody talks about it, but nobody does anything about it." Talking won't bring industry back to normal, but good management, straight thinking and hard working by everybody will. If you know any way to help, tell the boss.—The Night Watchman.

It Can't Be Done

One of the puzzles of modern times is why the world has made such great progress in the physical and technical realm and so little in industrial relations. The reason is that we have been trying to solve a human problem by physical and technical means. It can't be done.

Vary Only Slightly

The word "cyclopedia" is the name of a work given usually where its terms are arranged in alphabetical order, a summary of some single branch of knowledge, as a cyclopedia of music. Sometimes the word is used in a wider sense for the word "encyclopedia," which is the name of a work containing information on all subjects or exhaustive of one subject, arranged in systematical order.—Kansas City Star.

Bluff That Works

The unsuccessful person, after his failure becomes apparent to him, tends to become careless and to adopt the life motto of "What's the Use?" thus completing the disaster and tending to make it permanent. The real trick that "puts it over" on life is to act and dress as if one owned the universe and expected soon to come into possession of the same.—Minneapolis Journal.

Christians Lead

Close to 600,000,000 people in the world are living under laws based on the Christian religion, and this is greater than the number of people following any other religious belief. There are about 138,000,000 Buddhists, 300,830,000 Confucians and Taoists of China, 221,825,000 Mohammedans, 211,000,000 Hindus and approximately 12,000,000 under Jewish belief.

Sixth Sense in Dogs?

A seven-year-old collie recently returned to a farm in the Cumberland [illegible] from Liverpool, a hundred miles away. No satisfactory explanation has ever been offered for this faculty, though some people ventured the opinion that the dog has a kind of second sight, of which humans know nothing. —London Mail.

TAKING PART IN DEFENSE DAY VOLUNTARY

Federal employes in the field will be authorized to take time off to participate in the national defense day, September 12, the ward department has announced, at the same time indicating its hope that this action by the government will cause patriotic employers also to grant a holiday to employes willing to participate in the national mobilization test.

Business and industry will not be asked to give off time generally to employes, it was said, but it is expected that workers who are members of the National Guard and other organized defense units subject to call will be at liberty to serve.

The war department hopes that civilians will respond liberally to the call and will be the bulk of the participants. As now planned the actual time taken up by the test will not be longer than a few hours. The time in each locality has been left by the war department to the nine corps area commanders to work out in conjunction with local authorities everywhere.

On the test day, those required to participate, national guardsmen, members of the organized reserve and civilians will present themselves to the committee or the officer designated at an appointed time.

The committee or officer will negotiate with the local authorities for such theoretical drill grounds and billets as would be necessary in time of real mobilization. These probably will be selected in advance. Those presenting themselves for the test will be lined up, counted off, and then probably will be immediately dismissed and go back to work, the test being over. Those in charge of the test in the locality will then communicate with the superior officers as to its result.

War department officials emphasize the purely voluntary character of the participation of civilians, declaring there is no obligation whatever on any one to participate, or on employers to make participation possible.

Iodine Salt is a Goiter Preventive

Not a fad or a hastily conceived notion, but a scientific fact. After years of research and experiment medical science has determined that simple Goiter is caused by a deficiency of Iodine in the food or water supply and that it can be prevented by adding Iodine to table salt for every-day use. The Great need here of a new and modern hospital to serve the sick and injured in the upper Monongahela valley, is universally recognized.

There is no source from which the money can come that is needed to get this hospital building, except from the people who live in this community.

The Charleroi-Monessen hospital receives a little financial aid from the state, but this is for charity work only, and does not cover that fully. State aid is not available for hospital building purposes.

Hospitals are not conducted at a profit. This is a well recognized fact. It follows, therefore, that a hospital cannot accumulate money for building purposes.

The only way that a new modern hospital can be provided to safeguard the health of the people of this community is by the gifts of those who recognize that this is the greatest of charities, a humanitarian cause of vital importance to all community interests. To give money to build hospitals is conserving human life and human energy.

Every dollar the public gives will be used exclusively for the construction and equipment of the new hospital building.

All expenses of the campaign have been separately provided. Every subscriber is assured that his gift will go entire to the hospital.

This community must take its place with other christian and civilized communities, in providing proper hospital facilities and care for the safeguarding of the life and health of its people.

At the present time we are far below that requirement. Unfortunately it is true that our rating, as to hospital facilities and service, on the records of the Welfare Department in the State Department of Health, in Harrisburg, is "poor."

The Board of Directors of the Charleroi-Monessen hospital have been aware of this unsatisfactory condition and have been planning for sometime past to give the people of this valley an opportunity to remedy it.

Every person who thinks realizes keenly that the present unsatisfactory hospital situation is a menace to the life and well-being of himself and his loved ones; to his friends and his neighbors.

It is obvious that hospitals cannot be built and equipped on the instant when we need them. They must be ready to serve if they are to help us when the hour of our emergency arrives.

It is necessary, therefore, that we should take forethought and provide hospital facilities now so that these facilities will be ready and adequate when the need for them comes. Remember that need for a hospital comes to somebody everyday—yes, to many everyday; and anytime it may come to us.

The new hospital building will be fireproof. It will represent, in its construction and interior arrangement, the latest and best that modern hospital service requires.

The hospital staff and its business management will be organized so as to conform to the recommendations of the American College of Surgeons.

The new building will have a capacity of approximately 100 hospital beds, likely more. In the arrangement of interior the proper portion of space will be assigned for public wards, semi-private and private rooms.

The people of this community cannot continue to be satisfied with our present hospital conditions. The risk is too great to all that is most valuable and most precious to us—life.

The statement is made on the authority of many of our leading physicians and surgeons that the present lack of sufficient and proper hospital facilities has undoubtedly been the direct cause of many lives being lost that might have been saved had proper hospital facilities been near at hand. Surely we are not willing to continue to risk the lives of our loved ones that we may save a few paltry dollars.

We need this hospital and we must have it for the protection of our loved ones. It is just as important that our neighbor and his loved ones should also be protected. When we remember the words of the Master and his commendation of the traveler who made himself the neighbor of the wounded and helpless stranger, we may realize more fully our responsibility to help provide this new hospital.

Whether or not Charleroi secured this new hospital or whether it continues to be backward and handicapped in taking care of the sick and injured, depends upon whether or not we raise $150,000 for a new building. It is imperative that we raise money now. It is a question of—

Dollars or Lives?

PRAISE FROM ABYSSINNIA

Certain comment on the American athletes in the Olmpic games from an Abyssinnian suggest the effect produced by the silent and grimly determined American doughboys as they marched through London on their way to the World War. The observations of the special correspondent of the Addis Abeba Evening News, attached to the mission of the Regent of Abyssinnia, are the more interesting because of their evident spontaneity and non-political intent. Obviously generalization is pushed to extreme limits when the whole American people are judged by our athletes at Olympic games, but undoubtedly they do represent certain national traits. The intelligent observer from Ayssinnia is thus quoted:

"A single afternoon spent in the amphitheatre at Colombes is enough to furnish the intelligent onlooker with a complete picture of the habits and psychology of the American people. For instance, as I watched those clean-cut American youths acknowledging victory or defeat with the same modest smile, I knew that they came from a quiet sportsmanlike people. When I saw the silent and magnificent effort of their runners and their jumpers, I knew that they came from a people that loved action and abhorred palaver. When I saw the young Americans soar liké birds over the bars and the hurdles. I said to myself that this is the way every American surmounts the obstacles in his path. When I saw on the list of contenders names like Scholz and LeGendre, I understood that I was dealing with a people utterly ignorant of the debasing sentiment of racialism and sectionalism. When I saw the swiftness and certainty with which the young Americans met every emergency as it arose, I said to myself that this is a people of magnificent individual initiative, a people who would take orders from no one. When I saw the splendid devotion to the single cause, I knew this was a people which sacrifices self to the common good."

THOSE WHITE INDIANS.

It seems that it is seriously questioned whether the three "white" Indian children from Panama can be explained on the ground that they are albinos. that is, merely deficient in the coloring matter common to normal members of their race. According to report, several scientists are agreed that they are not albinos —a conclusion finding support in the claim that some four hundred white Indians exactly the same type, of all ages and both sexes, have been seen. Other scientists hold that it is a pathalogical, not an anthropological question, and that the children are suffering from an ailment of the skin producing abnormal white ness. It is said that groups of native white people among dark-skinned races have been reported now and then from Asia, the Pacific islands and elsewhere, and that in most cases they have been discovered in dense jungles where they have lived shaded from the sun.

If true, as reported, that the parents of these children are normal copper-colored Indians, this would support the albino theory. On the other hand, it would seem to be an anthropopological question if as many as four hundred "white" Indians were seen where these children came from. One would think that it is necessary to establish the facts beyond question before any conclusion secure from doubt can be reached.

Another famine is threatened in Russia, but, instead of making lans to save the country and itself, the Soviet government is employing all its energies to save itself by bringing about Communist uprisings in Germany, Poland, Rumania , Bulgaria and Jugo-Slavia.

GLORIA SWANSON IN "MANHANDLED"

Three cheers and a couple of tigers! Gloria Swanson is coming to town! No, dear reader, not in person, but in her latest Paramount picture, "Manhandled." It's due at the Coyle Theatre on Monday.

Listen, folks, we have some inside information on this production and being of a generous disposition, we are going to let you in on it. Some of you have a look of intense concentration on your faces as if you are trying to recall, where in the name of common sense you heard the name "Manhandled" before. Stop worrying about it and we'll tell you. It's dollars to doughnuts you saw it in the Saturday Evening Post, because that's where this Arthur Stringer story first saw the light of day. Frank Tuttle adapted it to the screen and Allen Dwan produced it.

Shhhhhh! Don't breathe a word of this—it's supposed to be a-b-s-o-l-u-t-e-l-y confidential. We found out that in the picture Gloria does an imitation of Charlie Chaplin! Holy Mackerel—we're so gosh darn anxious to see the picture we are itching all over!

Those of you who read the story know that it's about a girl, who starts life in a New York department store—a regular girl, the kind everyone likes—with the average girl's dreams and longings. Just like the rest of us she wants money, beautiful clothes, good times and of course a Prince Charming. She has youth, beauty—is clever and attractive, and it doesn't take her long to get everything her heart desires. But—there's always a "but," you know—in the end she comes to the bitter realization that she has lost more than she has gained. And then she wins for herself a great and wonderful victory in a very startling manner. Her Prince Charming turns out to be a poor hard working mechanic, whose honest love helps her in finding out what the worth-while things in life really are.

MUCH BUILDING AT MONONGAHELA

Building operations in Monongahela and vicinity show greater activity than for months.

It is estimated that building material companies in Monongahela are furnishing material for the erection of at least 30 homes in and about Monongahela. Many new homes have been completed this month, while a score of contracts have been let for improvement and remodeling of residences in every district.

With the cooperation of real estate dealers of the city several new districts have been opened up for home building sites, noticeably the Harrison, Corrin, and Black plans in the Fourth district of Monongahela, and the Riverview plan at New Eagle, while in the Fourth Street extension district of Monongahela, a number of new homes are being constructed.

With the operation of three cement block manufacturing plants in Monongahela, several of the new residences and buildings now in the [illegible] of them. At New Eagle, a dozen frame and concrete block houses have been built this summer, or are in the course of construction, while other surrounding districts report like business activity.

"A SON OF THE SAHARA" COMING

"A Son of the Sahara" will be produced at the Majestic on Monday and Tuesday evenings. Bert Lytell plays the leading role, that of the Sheik, while Claire Windsor portrays Barbara.

The story centers around the quest for vengeance of young Raoul, who has been brought up as an Arab in ignorance of the fact that he is white. When the old sheik of an outlaw tribe meets death in an attack on a French garrison Raoul is elevated to the old man's position and determines to avenge his death.

He meets Barbara and falls in love with her, not knowing she is the daughter of the French officer who is his avowed enemy. She spurns him when told he is an Arab outlaw chief. Later, leading his band in an attack on the French post, he finds Barbara and she is taken prisoner He carries out his threat to her father to have her sold as a slave, but secretly buys her himself. The plot takes many twists. Raoul learns his true identity, and the way is paved to a happy conclusion.

All of the roles in the supporting cast are particularly well played, notably the work of Walter McGrant, Rosemary Theby, Montagu Love and Paul Paubel. Considered from all angles, it is one of the best produced and most entertaining pictures of the year.

GOMPERS IN HIS BIGGEST BATTLE

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 2.—Samuel Gompers, war scarred veteran of labor's half century fight for supremacy, weakened by encroaching ill-health and with a nurse and physician in constant attendance, today began the biggest battle of his career.

It is a battle which may result in the first nationally concerted political movement to establish a labor government in the United States, paralleling the new labor governments in Europe which have risen to power in the revolt of the farmer and the workers against old line political affiliations.

Gompers, himself taciturn and secretive, is pictured by his closest friends as believing now that the best chance of success lies in action by the executive council of his American federation of labor swinging vigorously in behind the presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. LaFollette

The council, beginning its second day session this morning, had before it the unanimous recommendation of its political campaign committee giving a qualified endorsement of the LaFollette candidacy. First formal discussion by the council is scheduled for this afternoon.

The way is clear for adoption of the report. Sentiment in the council is overwhelmingly in favor of getting behind the LaFollette campaign. While the members will make no predictions for publication as to what the final action will be, they say that the federation will be more active in the campaign than ever before. It is labor's one big chance for political success, they point out, and they intend to make the most of it

LaFollette may not satisfy some of the traditions of the conservative federation, but the hopes of all labor lie in his direction, they say And so, Gompers, 74 years old, has come to take up the fight, perhaps his last presidential fight. His health is so weakened that it is impossible to say when the final action of the council on the report will be taken. He cannot remain in the council chamber throughout the long daily sessions and the subject is not to be discussed except in his presence. He is in such a condition that he has called off his daily conferences with the newspapermen.

The council intends to thresh out fully the possible effects of its unprecedented step before it is taken, according to Matthew Woll, chief lieutenant to Gompers. It wishes to preserve carefully its former policy of non-partisanship. It does not desire to pledge itself to all progressive principles or give the impression that it will not support many regular Republican and Democratic candidates for the senate and congress.

Qualified endorsement of the LaFollette-Wheeler presidential ticket, however, is no departure from the old policies of the past, Gompers believes. This sentiment led him and the other three members of the campaign committee to fix their signatures to the endorsement report. They are in favor of stating their objections to some minor points in the LaFollette platform, but there will be no restriction of the support which would be given in the campaign so that all organized labor, 5,000,000 votes, would be cast for the independent ticket. It is Gompers' biggest fight.

Indications are that the decision of the committee will not be made public before Monday at least, and perhaps later next week.

WISCONSIN GUARD NOT TO TAKE PART IN DEFENSE DAY

Madison, Wis, Aug. 2—Wisconsin's national guard will not take part in National defense day, September 12, it was announced here today

In an order issued by direction of Governor John J. Blaine, Adjutant-General Ralph Immell today declared "the governor feels that a test of mobilization is inadvisable" and that the Wisconsin National guard will "take part only on the call of the president of the United States issued in a national emergency."

Blaine's statement contends the defense test inadvisable because it would "stimulate a national military movement" and it would be more worth while "for America to hold a demonstration that would lead to universal peace." He also objected to the plan on the ground it would create an unfavorable impression in foreign countries.
